TESTING AMBLER HOTEL LAW.

D-CADY HERRICK SAYS THAT IT IS PLAINLY LAWLESS.

Legislature Cannot Deprive a License Holder of That Property Without a Judicial Inquiry—Justices at Special Term Mustn't Dodge, Says Ex-Judge.

D-Cady Herrick appeared before Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum yesterday to argue against the constitutionality of the Ambler law, passed at the last session of the Legislature, which is intended to do away with the fake hotels. Under this law it is for one thing the duty of the Excise Comissioner to revoke the hotel license of any saloon keeper who fails to make his hotel conform with the laws relating to hotels, especially the building law.

Mr. Herrick was retained by James J Walsh, counsel for Jacob Born, who has a hotel at 2362 Third avenue, and who recently got an injunction restraining Excise Commissioner Cullinan and Building Superintendent Hopper from withdrawing his license or tearing down his hotel. Born has been doing business for about eighteen years and has never been in trouble. He pays $4,000 a year rent and got a new tax certificate in April. When the Ambler law went into effect he was informed that his license had been revoked because his hotel did not comply with the building law provisions relating to room space and other measurements. The next thing he knew the Building Department men were on hand to tear down his partitions, and then he got an injunction.

When the case came on for a hearing on an order to show cause why the injunc-tion should not be continued indefinitely on an order to show cause why the injunction should not be continued indefinitely. Mr. Herrick argued that the Ambler law was unconstitutional, inasmuch as it gave power to the Excise Commissioners to confiscate property, in the shape of tax certificates, without due process of law. Under no conceivable extension of the State's police power, said Mr. Herrick, could such an act become constitutional in the face of the constitutions of both the State and the United States. There could be no question, he said, that the liquor tax certificate was a piece of property within the meaning of the Constitution, and therefore it could not be taken away except after a judicial hearing and determination.

The fact that of late it has been the custom for Judges of the Supreme Court to forhear passing upon the constitutionality of newly enacted laws, but to approve them and pass the matter up to the Appellate courts, ex-Judge Herrick commented on in this wise:

"Such action is cowardly. Here is a question which should be determined at once, squarely and upon its merita."

Justice Greenbaum remarked that in this respect he entirely agreed with Mr. Herrick.

Attorney-General Mayer opposed the motion in person, and contended that the Attorney-General Mayer opposed the motion in rerson, and contended that the Ambler law went no further than to amplify and explain the requirements of the Raines law, the constitutionality of which is well settled. Mr. Mayer said that the actions of the Building Department inspectors were not irregular or too vigorous, since Born's place was evidently not a hotel within the meaning of the law and was not entitled to any special consideration. If he were asked leave to submit-briefs on the legal points involved, as did Mr. Herrick. Leave was granted and decision reserved.

Goat Sets Off a Fireworks Factory. A goat owned by Mrs. Noonan of New Durham, North Bergen, wandered into a fireworks shanty in the woods near Robert street in that township on Sunday. It is presumed that she tried to sample a giant firecracker containing dynamite. There was an explosion and the goat was blown through an open door. Then there was a series of bangs and the shanty went up in smoke.

Why Should You Buy Furniture in August?

Not because scores of those stores get in large stocks of cheap, rickety furniture, at this time, to sell "cheap" to people who can't judge values.

Not because it has come to be a fad to buy Furniture in August.

And yet there are hundreds of housekeepers who really believe (because they have never visited a Wanamaker Sale) that August Furniture Selling is done to thousands of foolish, easily deceived people, who pay all the furniture is worth to secure it.

If it were otherwise, these superb stocks would be exhausted in two weeks' time, or less. For who would wait until October to pay $600 for exactly the same furniture as may be bought now for $400, if they believed that it could be done?

BUT IT CAN BE DONE-it is done by thousands of wise people, in every one of these periodic sales.

The furniture is of the same identical character and quality as our regular stocks-from the same manufacturers-often the same patterns. The valuation

August

Advance Showing of Styles for 1905-6

With Remarkable Price-Savings for August Buyers.

August is not a month to make one feel the necessity of fur garments; but the fur industry is particularly adapted to favoring the market operations of those who know it.

Skins have to be bought far ahead, and a great many manufacturers are exceedingly anxious to secure early orders-to see money coming in to meet the demands of pay-rolls and bills coming due. Taking advantage of this condition, we have made large purchases of fine new fur garments and small furs for a great August Sale.

Styles are all fixed for the season. The furs are all ready. There is almost prodigal variety here to select from. The only question to decide is: "Shall I wait until the Furs are needed; or shall I buy now and save a fifth, a quarter, or even a third of the value?"

Many women buy furs in the Spring, and pay for the alterations the next season, in order to secure a saving no larger than we offer now, on superb new garments, of choicest furs, in the season's most charming and correct styles.

The advantage is most decisive. New York women will be prompt to appreciate it. The garments will be held and delivered later on, whenever it is so desired-relieving you of all the care of the furs, until you actually want them. A brief list of the pieces follows:

Sable squirrel is to be one of the most popular furs of the year. Of course there is no such thing as natural color sable squirrel, but by natural color sable squirrel, but by spaces of dweing the pale.

Persian Coats, of same quality, trimmed with two-stripe mink collar and revers, or blended Japanese marten collar and revers. $115.

Attractive collarless Persian lamb Blouses, braid-trimmed. $105. natural color sable squirrel, but by a new process of dyeing the pale color squirrel skins are dyed a beautiful brown, making the skins similar to sable in color. The dye leaves the fur soft, bright and very silky.

Blouses, braid-trimmed. $105.

FUR-LINED COATS for WOMEN for than one hundred and fifty Coats; of good black broadcloth, lined with a good gray and white squirrel. All are season.

At $75 there are very pretty Blouse Coats, with large lapels, carefully modeled akirts, heavy corded belts and limings of heavy silk brocade. These jackets are ornamented with handsome green bronse buttons, and sell in the ordinary way for $100. Now $75

At $85, $95, $125 and $180 there are fourteen different models from which to choose.
